GENERAL INFORMATION

Your dissolution will NOT be final until you obtain a Judgment in the case.

If the other party does NOT respond within thirty (30) days from the date he/she was served, you have the right to request a DEFAULT JUDGMENT against the other party. A Judgment finalizes your dissolution which terminates your marital status.

The Judgment is the court order and contains orders for all issues included in your dissolution.

The Default Judgment will only get you orders that you requested in your Petition for Dissolution. Your Default Judgment MUST mirror your Petition exactly. You can obtain NO MORE AND NO LESS than what you requested in your Petition.

You cannot obtain a Default Judgment if the Respondent HAS filed a Response. If the Respondent did file a Response to your Petition for Dissolution, contact the Family Law Center for information on the next step in finalizing your dissolution.

If the Respondent is ACTIVE DUTY MILITARY, there are additional forms that will need to be completed to finalize the dissolution. Contact the Family Law Center for information on how to obtain the forms and the process. It is recommended that you attend a Final Dissolution by Default Clinic to receive assistance in completing the forms.

Once you have completed ALL of the forms listed, COPY ALL of your documents TWICE.

Submit your originals, 2 copies, and 3 envelopes with postage to the Court for review and signature.

The Clerk will review your documents to check for errors and completion.

If your documents are complete and accurate, the Judgment will be sent to the Judge for his/her consideration and signature. The Judge will either sign the Judgment or instruct the clerk to return with errors.

If there are errors, your documents will be rejected and returned to you for corrections. To receive assistance with correcting your documents from the Family Law Center, you MUST attend a Final Dissolution by Default Clinic.

If the Judge approves and signs your Judgment, the Court will return a copy of everything to you and the Respondent in the envelopes provided. Please make sure you submit enough postage on the envelopes and the addresses are complete and current.

❖ Please Note: After the Clerk mails you and the other party copies of the Judgment (FL-180) and Notice of Entry of Judgment (FL-190) the Court will not send any additional documents to inform you of the termination of your marriage. However, you are NOT SINGLE and eligible to remarry until the date specified on your Judgment (FL-180).
